Sure wealth to Estancieros
By the Robert Apparatus.
Being motive power in immense injury occasioned by the scarcity of water during the long (seas) that afflict the camps of Buenos Ayres, I have determined to dedicate to the Estancieros an Apparatus at once simple and infallible for procuring as much water as they may require.

120 Barbacuis per hour (it seems fabulous) is procured with my apparatus, without fear of at any time its getting out of order.

This machine is worked by one horse and in one day's work can give 44 Barbacuas that is to say, sufficient water for 20,000 head of cattle.

By these figures can be calculated the immense advantages gained by its use.

Another advantage is the facility of putting it together and taking it to pieces, so as to be able to transport it to any place where it may be necessary to use it, either for watering purposes or others.

GREAT MODIFICATION.

I have made an improvement in my Apparatus, applying a new system which reduces the necessary force two thirds, giving it at the same time more rapidity.

Those interested can see it at Calle Moreno, No. 346 (Honerrado, Paris.)

One side inspection of the Apparatus will prove to them the superiority of it over any others.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 1864.

GRAND PIC-NIC

CAPT. BRUCE'S FAREWELL TO ROSARIO

On Thursday morning the long-talked-of "pic-nic" came off, which Captain Bruce, with his wonted hospitality, had promised his Rosario friends previous to his departure for Buenos Ayres.

The splendid English steamer Esmeralda, was decked out with all her bunting. Notwithstanding that the weather was very threatening, and the streets of Rosario were almost impassable with the mud, before ten o'clock, a.m., all the 'ton' of Rosario were to be seen wending their way towards the port.

At eleven o'clock precisely, Captain Hunter (the well-known captain of the Esmeralda) weighed anchor, and at half-speed dropped down the river, amidst the cheers of an admiring but vagrant multitude, which crowded the river side.

In a few moments the bell rang for breakfast, but owing to the number of the guests, it was found necessary to let the ladies breakfast first. The repast was got up on a style of magnificence which would have done justice to the La Paix, the wines were the choicest to be found in Buenos Ayres, and were cooled by M. Demarchi's ice, imported purposely for the occasion.

At half-past twelve o'clock the gentlemen sat down to satisfy their appetites, which had been slightly sharpened by the bracing river breeze. Hardly, however, had the bell of the creation been seated, when a scene occurred which can better be imagined than described. The ladies had determined to eject the waiters and attend on their masculine friends themselves Forty or fifty of the most bewitching and fascinating girls of Rosario, possessed themselves of the decanters, champagne bottles, pickles, preserves, vinegar, oil, salt, and, in fact, every thing on the table, even to the very tooth-picks: sherry with mustard, champagne with salt, roast duck with dulce. Since the day when Eve usurped Adam—we leave it to Mr. Murray and Dr. Fitzsimons to say how long ago—never was man so victimised by cruel, unrelenting, but bewitching woman. A feint effort was made to turn out the adulterating attendants, but it was idle. Petticoat government was supreme on board the Esmeralda, and the gentlemen rose from the table with appetites keener than when they sat down.

At last we arrived at the point of disembarkation, i.e., the saladero of Sr. Zubeldia; unfortunately, it was raining a fatigue, but as the steamer sent up to the 'galpon' on the hill, the girls insisted on at once landing and storming the place. Led on by the redoubtable J. Hillyard, Esq., acting as Acting English Consul, was one of the great personages on the occasion, and assisted by Captain Campbell, chairman, late of her Majesty's 50th Regiment, who is at present in Rosario, a landing was effected, and Sr. Zubeldia's carriage being brought into requisition, the ladies were spared the difficulty of wading through mud.

Having all arrived at the saladero, many of the company, wet both interiorly and exteriorly, the band struck up and the dance commenced. As the 'galpon' had no walls, the roof being supported by bandubay posts, the wind, which was rather high, had a great power over the dresses of the fair dancers; but it was not an hour to be annoyed at trifles, or to stand on punctilio: every one seemed to be pleased. The floor, being a little wet, now and then a roar of laughter indicated that some of the dancers had slipped, pulling down her or his partner, as the case might be.

Dinner was served up on the long dressing tables of the premises, beneath a huge pile of Cadiz salt.

When the viands were discussed, and the wines began to flow more copiously than the rain on the thatched roof, Sr. Castro rose, and in a most magnilquent manner, proposed the health of the host, 'Captain Bruce,' which was drunk in the midst of the most boisterous applause; but the ladies gave most unmistakable signs of impatience, and hinted that they preferred dancing to speaking; ultimately, however, the toll, commanding form of Captain Tottenham, forced itself upon the notice of the company, and he demanded permission to give a toast, Irishmen, somehow, are, generally speaking, rather successful with the ladies, and although half the party had left the table already, when it was known that the gallant Captain had a toast to propose, they returned in a body. The Captain said Ladies and gentlemen, as a stranger in this hospitable country, I cannot permit you to depart without expressing to you all my heartfelt gratitude for your kindness. Scarcely a part on this hitherto dull coast I have not visited, now, in the evening as it were of life; I begin to discover that it is not in India nor China, not in Spain nor New York, not in the liveried courts of Europe, but in Rosario, that one finds the genuine outpourings of a whole-souled hospitality (tremendous applause, and shouts of 'go on, Captain.') Ladies—for it is ye whom I address, I feel a little more at home, although not with my back to a pile of Cadiz salt, and my face upon you all, I say that this hospitable stranger thanks you all. If through your exertions I have been deprived of my breakfast, have I not feasted upon your eyes, and satiated my heart's appetite upon your cates con cuero (hear, hear).

This speech, which was delivered in English, but translated simultaneously by Sr. Castro, caused a profound sensation. The ladies asked who was Captain Tottenham, and where he came from?

The gallant stranger company departed for the steamer; unfortunately it was raining in torrents, and the ladies, who were thinly dressed, were slightly wet. On returning to town on board the Esmeralda was enlivened by the ladies playing the piano, the band giving some Italian airs, and, as for the gallant Irishmen maintaining a consecutive chime, to the no small astonishment of the bewildered and half unsteady sympha. At nine o'clock the Esmeralda arrived off Rosario; and carriages having been provided, the party set off for the Jardin Publico, the head quarters of the hospitable Captain Bruce. The splendid saloons were handsomely lighted with Kerosene. The ball commenced with a quadrille and dancing was kept up until four a.m.

Auld lang syne' was chanted by the entire company, the Germans and native guests seeming to have caught the inspiration of the Scotch bard. The company then separated.

The Revista de Buenos Ayres.

This city is doing its utmost to merit the name of the Athens of South America. It is the only city on this continent which has succeeded in producing periodical magazines. That which bears the above title, and the 'River Plate Plate Magazine, bid fair to become valuable in the field of literature. The latter has the more extensive range of subjects, not confining itself to articles on this country only, but boldly advocating the rights of free thought. No. 9 of the 'Revista' corresponding to the 1st of January, has a collection of articles all more or less bearing upon the Hispano-American subjects, and which, as a whole, are well worth reading.

The first article is an abridged resume of the history of this country, from the year 1511. It is one of a series, confined to political ruling, but also extended to the ball-room, he being obliged to act as M.C., and settle the disputes which arose from the question about precedence, supposed to be founded on the claims of the disputants' right to 'sangre azul' or 'sangre colorada.' It also gives information of the forefathers of the flourishing province of Mendoza—Colo, the introducer of the vine, and Pedro Fernandez de Castro, Godoy, and Sotomaya—names which are still to be found honored in the Cuyo district.

We have then a historicte of the British Invasion of Buenos Ayres, from the pen of Don P. Andres Garcia, extracted from the documents compiled by Alsina and Lopez in Montevideo. This also merits attention, more especially from the British reader, on account of deductions drawn from facts by the writer.

Which No. 3 is purely local, being an account of the founding of the Convent of the Catalinas in Buenos Ayres.

We have next something of more general interest, viz., a list of dates and anniversaries of events celebrated in the history of Spanish America. This extends from the year 1495 till 1863.

There is a very clear, short description of the South American authoress Señora Borrit, and attended to it are some of her shorter writings.

The 'Pálidas Visperas' have a mixture of Wilkie Collins' sensationary style, without Bulwer Lytton's mystical effusions, and was intended to be read during the cold winter nights, and not at this present hot season, when every poetry is rather more inclined to than ghostly prose.

Next in order follows 'A page from Homer,' supposed to be a true representation of some of the scenes in the life of Nausicaa.

Benjamin Vicuña Makenna, the well known South American writer, finishes up this number of the 'Revista' with a critical article on the biography of General Carrera.

Looking upon the 'Revista' as a whole, we consider its critical articles are good and well selected, considering the paucity of choice; and last, though not least (a great thing to the reader) the type is remarkably clear—a point of excellence not always to be found, even in Europe.

LENTEN PASTORAL.

We Mariano J. Escalada, by the Grace of God and of the Apostolic See, Bishop of the Most Holy Trinity of La Plata, &c., &c.

It is our duty to call your attention to the holy season of Lent commencing to-day. So important is it, that no one should be ignorant of its approach, or content himself with simply knowing the fact, but even dedicate his thoughts thereto, studying and practising its injuctions, for no other season has a more sacred origin or holier precepts, and none is calculated to work out man's true felicity.

To be ignorant of Lent, we must have forgotten our great spiritual interests, and to neglect it entirely, for any science, and delivered ourselves up to dangerous illusions which tend to eternal death. Such is the ordinary result of this season, and regard it with indifference, not entering into its spirit or purpose betrays an obduracy of heart, leaving it in the strength, and remedy as it were frozen up.

Viewing man in this sad state, the Church calls him, put ashes on his forehead and says solemnly 'Remember thou art hargy, saying: "Remember thou art dust, and into dust must return," that in this remembrance he may enter into the Holy Season.

Let us briefly consider the institution of Lent to guide our actions thereby, noting that the Fasts of Penance and charity may recal the wanderers, and strengthen those in the path of grace,to hasten forward the end of this life's journey. Lent is a homage to Christ's Divinity. Contrition for offences against the cause of all good is a sublime sacrifice, calculated to repress our passions; meditation on the eternal truths by which we are redeemed, together with the exhortations of His ministers, and the ingrained conviction of worship, all form, of Lent, a series of honors to Jesus Christ.

Religion permits such supreme adoration only to the Lord of the universe: it is a tribute to the Divinity alone. then do not offer such homage to their fellows, lest we run the risk of losing our dignity, which is lost when a creature becomes elevated to the rank of God. Hence the adoration of worship, all that disappeared before the light of civilization. Idolatry was a homage to vice, which plunged human nature in the depth of degradation.

Only the true God, with his infinite perfections and supreme authority, can turn unto Him the heart of man, and inspire the contrite soul to such works of prayer and penance as Lent prescribes.

But, who is the God to whom we render such homage? Is it not Jesus Christ? In his memory and honor Lent was established,to imitate His fast of 40 days and 40 nights, and by preparing His spirit for the mission of His heavenly life. The Acts of the Apostles relate the facts of the early Cristians in honor of Christ, as also the martyrdom of Santago, St. Ignatius and Bishop of Antioch after St Peter, in one of his pricon epistles recommends the observance of Lent. Like the Jewish Passover of old, we find numerous passages showing the fervor of the first Christians in honoring their Redeemer by fasts especially that of Lent. Observe, as Christ crucified worshipped by His persecutors, in presence of their tyrants.

Certainly, no one can doubt that is to Jesus Christ the homage of Lent has been offered up by the faithful in all the Catholic countries. The multitude assembles to hear His sacred word; the faithful implore mercy, at His tribunal, and assist at His sacrifice on the altar, to lay bare their waste, to beg for grace, and strengthen themselves with His sacred food. In a word, every thing is Christ's public life in every detail; His struggle with the Evil one, His great sermons, His parables, His miracles, His cures, His disputes with the doctors, and wise answers; the envy of His enemies, His persecution, trial, accusation, sentence, scoffing, death, and glorious resurrection. We sing offices in His honor: the Lamentations are for the offences committed against Him, and the ruin of Judæa: the Prophecies celebrate His benefits to mankind; and Moses is a figure of Him, every over the world, the flesh, and the devil.

But this homage could not be paid to Jesus Christ if he were not God, for they would be, as Divine honors, an usurpation of God's own rights, and an act of idolatry. Such injury to the Godhead, and degradation of Man, could not last long, for vice and falsehood have but a brief reign.

The idols have fallen; and bigotry and superstition vanished. Man's work is gradually passing to time. But Christ's worship lasts for ages and grows stronger with duration. Violence, human means, against all the power of man, altars are raised to God crucified, first in the hearts of Christians, for persecution and death cannot destroy the tabernacle of the gloomy Catacombs. Worldly pomp succeeds the poverty of the temples, though suffering their asperities: Catholic worship prevails over human depravity, and towering above the ruins of the undestroyed Jerusalem predictions, is the Cross of Jesus Christ.' Great men and their works pass away, but the Cross remains every thing is changed, but Christ alone subsists of Himself, in spite of all, because He is eternal, the Eternal, omnipotent and all perfect God.

Lent has done signal service to the world, by reforming customs, and introducing habits, practices, and rules of penance and Communion, ordained by the Church. This could not be so if Christ were not God. An idolatrous worship, based on falehood and vice, cloaked be the source of such generous deeds as we can find in Scripture, but other bring down the anger of the Supreme Being. If on the other hand, signal blessings have flown from the Cross of the Lord, and its adoration, is that Christ, the object of these honors, receives them as God, and returns us them with His love and His salvation.

But it is not our purpose to prove the Divinity of Jesus Christ by the glorious effects produces after Calvary, nor to refute the modern reproduction of Jewish incredulity and injustice. We meant, in speaking of Lent, to advert to the Divinity of Him, whose cause is to whom this season is dedicated. Although Christ's divinity is unquestionable, and this dogma is engraved on all our hearts by the colours of the Gospel, we can but come to pass,'and so he's have said,'there is no God. Mankind has grown corrupt and hollow-hearted, and the human race strayed away and become useless, their throat is an open sepulchre, with their tongues they inweit deceit, and the poison of asps is under their lips. Their mouth is full of malediction and bitterness, their feet are quick towards bloodshed. There is no knowledge of God, and oppress their neighbour, they have never known the path of peace, the fear of God is not before their eyes."

The basis is the origin of all this evil, because not loving God, they do not wish Him to exist, but deliver themselves up to acts unworthy of a rational being, and of the world, that thrown Him; are dead to His word, consider not His works, disobey His law, despise His Gospel, and refuse Him no homage, and seek to forget Him, in order to persuade themselves that He no longer exists. They sell their heart to idols, and are in fact God themselves.

Evil will of man! thou forest him to taste what he should ever, and above all, love; a fatal error, in which he should always most hate. Thou maket him insensible to Divine love, its recompenses and chastisements. Those who disregard Him are deprived by their sins, who forsake the temple, and disobey the Church's mandates, love lost the love of the Lord, and the heavens wished to say, "there is no God." Wretches that have banished God from their hearts, the sovereign and only Master of the world, and become under the yoke of barbarous oppressors. God is their father, legislator, and judge, and they are without law. How they cau live in peace of mind, is inexplicable; how they do not lose all basis of hope is incredible, how long they will continue to live in such a pernicious will endure, and what punishment will follow, are important questions which constitute many souls never propose to themselves.

God should be the only and utmost object of our love, in whom to deposit all our hopes; from whom to ask for charity, light, peace, and every blessing, and in His hands are the scales of justice. Let us, then, must we say of those who will not love, obey, and serve Him, who forget and injure Him in the season of grace afforded by the propitiation of the Lamb of love, which is supreme felicity? We cannot be surprised at the ills which befall the world, in the general and private community: domestic and social discord, treachery and universal disorder are the consequences. Society and the elements are with affect men; the air, the elements, the herds, all resist man, because man resists God's love.

It is unfortunate that some think all this natural enough, and do not recognise the true causes,or raise themselves from this stupor: they attribute the calamity to wrong motives, and ridicule an Institution which religion and Christian penance inculcate. They despair of no improvement, or at least foresee for their posterity, and meanwhile despise Jesus Christ who with open arms offers them present welfare, and the fruits of eternal life. They hear but his word, our submit to the conditions of salvation for their good: and they deny the divine origin of our Redeemer and of His Holy Church, disobeying, scoffing, persecuting and disturbing her action, refusing those sacrifices which she demands of her children, for God's honor and their own salvation.

But if Christ is God, how do wretched mortals dare so much? Percaunce they think He will not mind their insults, nor deny them His grace, nor call them to judgment and a terrible condemnation? God and man knows that on encountering! When we meditate on God, in all the greatness of His attributes and power, in His infinite justice and love, and see man in direct opposition, we ask in astonishment how long will this tolerance last, and when will the Almighty arrest the course of daring a rebel. The Church wishes to save men from the anger of the Lord and therefore invites them to profit of the season of grace and penance, for now is the acceptable time.

In this holy time she would remind us of our Duties and Aguds to us of His Majesty; she presents to us Christ's image, and relates His life, passion, and death to make us know his sorrow and thirst for our salvation. She exclaims with the prophet Joel, in the words of the Lord: "Turn to me with your whole heart, with fasting, tears, and contrition: rend your hearts and not your garments." Or again, with Isaias, "Leave to the impious man his way, and to the wicked his thoughts, and return to the Lord, who will have mercy on you, for He is ready to pardon." She exhorts us with the same prophet to works of charity and mercy which are calculated to disarm Divine justice, and draw down a shower of blessings.

The Church now redoubles her efforts to lead us into the right way; her sanctions have this end in view, and her ministers have extraordinary faculties, as at the hour of death, to reconcile us with God. Her only solace is in these pious souls, who labour to exalt Christ honour, both for themselves and their fellow creatures, glorifying His goodness and infinite perfections. Jesus Christ being God, they act with wisdom and truth in so doing. Those who forget, despise, offend, and deny Jesus Christ our Lord, are blind, deluded, and perverse wretches in the highway to eternal perdition. May God have mercy and you all, beloved children, from such a misfortune. I embrace you with the charity of Jesus Christ, to whom I recommend you and to whom I bless in the name of my love, I give you the pastoral benediction, in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost.

Given in Buenos Ayres, 10th February, 1864.

MARIANO JOSE,
Bishop of Buenos Ayres.

LENTEN REGULATIONS.

1. Meat is allowed every day, excepting Ash Wednesday and the last four days of Holy Week.

2. The Easter Communion may be made in the camp, between Ash Wednesday and the octave of Corpus Christi: in town between Good Friday and the latter date.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The result of the elections is now beyond doubt, shewing an overwhelming majority in favor of the Cocidos or National party. We believe the numbers are approximately Club Libertad 6000, Club del Pueblo 9000. In San Nicolas there were 1300 Cocidos and only 5 Cocidos: this alone is conclusive.

Nothing can be more disgraceful than the efforts made to release the soldier who barbarously killed Connell in V. Mercedes. Yesterday's Tribuna contains a petition bearing 180 names, begging his release,on the grounds that he only defended himself in wounding the Irishman. It will be remembered that Connell was unarmed, and has died of the wounds. To our great disgrace there is one Irish name of the list, and it heads the list. John N. Connor, from this day, may be regarded as a Gaucho in heart, feelings and morality. His countrymen disown him, for sanctioning this bloody deed.

We are glad to learn the Enterprise got off from Montevideo for Paraná, Paraguay, on the 13th inst. Her cargo is chiefly iron, and a claim was made on the whole of the insurance—a total loss. A portion of the underwriters paid, and the remainder, joining in opposition, lodged £5,000 in court as the damage to which they were liable. It was proved that one of the plates of the steamer had a small indentature or "hole," and there were some rivets starting. It was proved that she was not in a condition to be abandoned, and the 'Times' says that when such things

Norma will be given to-night at Colon, and from its splendid success on Wednesday evening we anticipate a full house.

The last bal masque of the season will be given to morrow night at Colon. We understand the last was not so poor as had been given us to understand.

The 'Progres' and 'Tribuna' are at logger-heads, for some bitter facts published by the former. If Tribuna know that 'when the cap fits he must wear it.' It is quite clear that the Tribuna was an enemy to Argentine nationality until the elections showed how the wind blew.

SHIPPING INTELLIGENCE.

The American brigantine Kate Segerant which left M. Video on the 8th inst. to succour the American ship 'Ocean Bloud,' was off Cape St. Mary with a cargo of coal from Cardiff, returned on the 11th from Maldonado, where she left the 'Ocean Blood.' No efforts could save the ship, for she went to pieces in the strong gales recently blowing. The unfortunate man has now of life, the crew being opportunely taken off, and conveyed in carts to Maldonado.

The Fedora and Triton, English warsteamers are daily expected from Rio Janeiro.—Telegrafo Maritimo.

AMERICA.

The statement that the rebel authorities refuse to receive any further supplies of medicine and food on which prisoners is now officially confirmed by letters from Gen. Meredith to Gen. Hitchcock. The reason is the alleged impressive willingness of the people, by the Northern press and public, in regard to the manner in which the rebels have conducted out their part of the programme. Hereafter,the rebel authorities say, our soldiers will get precisely the same that theirs got in the field. It is to be regretted, that no cartel for exchange business will soon be committed to the hands of Gen. Butler, and that he will be sufficient to carry the matter satisfactorily. Send Weekly Times, 18th December—1864.

MURDER.

There is a Joe Miller story of an old lady who threw down the 'Times' in disgust, exclaiming 'Dear the paper, it has not one good murder?' We are unaware what are the requisites of a good murder, and whether this remarkable female had not become so accustomed to highly spiced dishes of atrocities events that she could not relish a simple assassination; but should she have still retained her innocent taste for plain, matter-of-fact, healthy murder, she should have come to these countries, and been satisfied as she, out of the great great collection of villainous attacks, could have easily taken her "choice."

In the 'Argentino' of Parana, we read of the murder of an old servant of the Padre Gabino Ferron. Jose Ferron, in Santa Fé. The victim was an old man of 74 years of age, and was a French subject. He was killed with a knife and axe. It is almost needless to state that the efforts (if any) of the authorities to arrest the perpetrators have not been heard of.

SHIPPING ITEMS.

The screw steamer Sicilia, of Glasgow, from Monte Video for Liverpool, put into St. Jago de Cuba on the 9th inst., having had her shaft broke and propeller carried away on the 18th of November, in 20°36' N., long 64° W.

The Parana brought to Southampton five prisoners, part of the crew of the ship Flowery Land, accused of murder, robbery, and mutiny, two others of the crew as witnesses. The remaining prisoners & witnesses, seven in number, left Montevideo in the Liverpool Mail steamer Tamar, four days before the English Mail steamer Mersey left that port.

The Tamar, which brought home from St. Vincent's, Captain Bannister, seventeen of the crew, and nine passengers, of the bark Great Britain, of Sunderland, bound from Rio to the Plate, which vessel was totally lost on the north west end of the St. Jago, during the night of the 13th or 14th inst. Fortunately the weather was moderate, and the crew lost nearly everything. Deputy Governor of St. Jago despatched a Portuguese war steamer to convey the crew to Porto Praco.—Brazil & R. Plate Mail.

MERCANTILE MORALITY.

In the case of the great shipowners, Mr. Lindsay, an M.P., and Confederate American sympathizer, who sued the underwriters for loss sustained on a steamer, abandoned on the coast of Africa, a compromise has been come to. Mr. Lyndsay's steamer was abandoned and sold as old iron, and then a claim was made on the whole of the insurance—a total loss. A portion of the underwriters paid, and the remainder, joining in opposition, lodged £5,000 in court as the damage to which they were liable. It was proved that one of the plates of the steamer had a small indentature or "hole," and there were some rivets starting. It was proved that she was not in a condition to be abandoned, and the 'Times' says that when such things are done "it is time for underwriters to look out." The compromise is that Mr. Lindsay takes £4,000 out of the money lodged in court, the residue remaining with the underwriters, and each party pays his own costs. The verdict is a virtual finding for the defendant. What will Mr. Lindsay do next?—Cork Examiner.

THE ITALIAN OPERA.

Never was any opera better rendered in B. Aires than Norma, on Wednesday evening, by Mmes. Briol & Mollo and Sig. Lelmi. The house was not crowded, but a large attendance of English showed how correctly we stand that this was a favorite opera among our countrywomen.

The recital of those pieces eliciting applause would be a repetition of the whole play but we must remark on pressant that the Druids, March and others as parts of chorus were much better than we had expected. Casta Diva" of course was listened to with breathless enchantment, and the house lingered with applause, when the fair supplicant had risen. "Deh Con te" was also delightful, and the several duetts between Briol and Mollo were decidedly the finest musical essays we had heard since Piccolomini and Gingelini. After the second act the two prima donne, with Lelmi, were thrice called before the curtain and obliged to give an encore to the closing duet. In the last act Briol rose at times to sublimity, and Mollo sang with such exquisite effect that the lovely yielded the palm. Lelmi too was in good voice, and on the whole the audience was charmed, astonished, and gratified by the sudden revival of a real genuine castello lyric performance at Colon.

To-night Norma will be repeated, and we hope none of our readers will miss the opportunity of hearing the best company we have had for many years, in their 'chef-d'œuvre.'

THE SIEGE OF MONTEVIDEO RAISED.

RETREAT OF FLORES.

17th February, 1864.

Since yesterday we have been free—and the Liberators, after being for eight or nine days stationed in the environs of this city, have resigned themselves without any greater to boast of than having wakened us with sharp musketry and heavy gun firing, at midnight, some short time ago, during however no damage. I understand that to day the state of siege is to be raised, and that we will again return to our former tranquil life.

A President of the State, to act as President of the Republic, has not yet been appointed on account of the opposition of Senator Errasuier and Don Manuel Herrera.

To-day a party of our troops have marched for Toledo (four leagues from the capital) in order to take possession of some wounded whom the Liberators could not take along with them, and had left on the road, besides numbers who have become disgusted at finding their promised land Elysium after a little reason, and who succumb to about 1400 in all—very dirty, and without any heart to fight left in them.

LOCAL EVENTS.

Cordoba.—The 'Ferro-carril' of Rosario says; in reference to the revolution in Cordoba, 'Now that the riot of the 4th inst. has been put a stop to, everything remains quiet. The only object effected by the turbulent crowd is the release from prison twenty-one of the factions of Cordoba confined. The authorities are busily engaged in taking measures to prevent further outbreaks. The police have sent four of the revolutionists, but one of them, the son of Don Nicolas Peñaloza, managed to escape. On being examined, the prisoners all confessed that the aforesaid Peñaloza, Don Augusto Lopez, and another, name unknown, were the prime movers of the disturbances; and that one of the bands of insurgents had come from Peñaloza's quinta. The revolutionary party on active duty numbered about fifty men, and had a small reserve which did not show.'

A New Theatre.—It is reported that the French Ballet company opened a new theatre in this city. There are quite sufficient of their own countrymen and other foreigners, who understand French, to support such an undertaking—and now that the national theatres are so much occupied with operas and that class of pleasure provaiders, it is more than likely that the house in which the legitimate object is playing is officed to the public, will be crowded. S.

A very pretty little account.—The New York Herald says that the present war in the States has caused the loss of 100,000 men by death, and 400,000 who are crippled for life. The destruction to property amounts to $4,000,000,000, and to the interests of commerce to 10 000,000 dollars This is supposed to be the damage sustained by the Northerners; that of the South erners is not yet ascertained, but it is likely to be even greater.

Strange if true.—The 'Pueblo' states that hope for the credit of the human race) that the Provincial Government are preparing a grand Te Deum for the victory gained on the 14th inst. On the evening of the same day, a fancy ball will be given in the Government house. A French monarch was heard to exclaim, in a unguarded moment. "If people only knew what a small amount of brains are requisite for governing!"

The temporal masters of these provinces seem to model their conduct on that of John Horner, jun., who, according to history, sat in a corner, and because his most natural events happened, bestowed much self laudation on himself.

A Likely Story.—It is said that the Gefe Politico of this city has placed at liberty the individual who, on Sunday last, at the Retiro, imitated the mysterious Comandante Martinez, in the Piedad Parish; and that is not the worst of it—he has not examined the prisoners, nor taken any declaration whatever, so naturally the motive of the deed cannot be known.

Capture.—A merchant had robbed the banking house of Soto, in Rio de Janeiro, of $2 0,000 (?), and took his passage on board the Brazilian barque Hastrey, for Buenos Ayres. The Brazilian Government had given instructions to their vessels on this station and he was arrested at the entrance to the port. The culprit's name is Jose Antonio Vercosta, and with him were taken $1,0,000. He was not pursued on board the Brazilian corvette Jequitinhonha, and will be sent for trial to Rio de Janeiro.

ALL CURES MADE EASY!!

BY

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

Bad Legs, Ulcerous Sores, Bad Breasts, and Old Wounds.

No description of wound, sore, or ulcer can resist the healing properties of this excellent Ointment. The worst cases of bad legs, bad breasts, and old wounds, after every other means had been tried in vain, have been completely cured by its use. Even when matters had proceeded to the last stage of mortification, and the sufferers were recommended to undergo amputation, they have, by the use of this Ointment, had the opportunity of avoiding the operation, and restoring their limbs to perfect health. Extraordinary as it may appear, many persons have had their limbs saved by the timely application of this Ointment, when the best medical men have declared that nothing but the knife could save their lives.

Rheumatism, Gout, and Neuralgia.

Nothing has the power of reducing inflammation and assuaging pain like this Ointment. Whether the disease be Rheumatism, Gout, or Neuralgia, the first application of this Ointment will be found to produce a sensation of relief, and the most violent cases will be completely subdued by its influence. Not only the pains and anguish, but also the swelling, will be removed by the use of this Ointment. Sufferers from Rheumatism, Gout, and Neuralgia, should not lose a moment in having recourse to it.

Sore Throats, Diphtheria, Quinsey Mumps, and all other Derangements of the Throat.

In the worst cases of any of these maladies the Ointment should be well rubbed in, at least three times a day, upon the throat, and the Pills should be taken according to the directions given in the printed instructions which are folded round each pot. By these means, the most violent inflammation will be subdued, and the most dangerous symptoms will be removed by following the printed directions.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:

Bad Legs	Chilblains	Fistulas	Sore Throats
Bad Breasts	Chapped Hands	Gout	Skin Diseases
Sores	Coco Bay	Lumbago	Scurvy
Ulcers	Corns (Soft)	Piles	Scalds
Old Wounds	Elephantiasis	Rheumatism	Burns
Yaws	Erysipelas	Ringworm	Tumours
Chiego-foot	Fistula in Ano	Scalds	Wounds

SAVINGS BANK

BANK MAUA & C°

No. 103 calle de Cangallo. —

BUENOS-AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts current are now so generally felt, and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate—Montevideo & Buenos Ayres—that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the Bank in which they place the most confidence

The Bank of Mauá & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working class in that city, a safe & profitable depositary for their savings.

The sums deposited in that most important institution are daily increasing, and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of Clerks, artisans, workingmen & servants of all classes & conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries and other rivalities

The Bank of Mauá and Co. of this city following the example of their firm in Montevideo now offer the same facilities in this city and will open on the 1st October a "Savings Bank" at No 103 calle Cangallo from 9 a. m to 3 p. m. on week days, and on Sundays and holidays from 10 a. m. to 1 m. for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned.

The Bank will deliver to each depositor a Pass Book in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited, in the former case the interest will be calculated up to date,

The Bank of Mauá and Co. is sufficiently known to the public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighbourhood.

Buenos Ayres September 19th 1863.

p. p. Mauá & Co.

WILLIAM LESLIE.

CONDITIONS.

1st. The Bank receives at interest any sum from Twenty five dollars currency or one silver dollar upwards.

2d. The interest allowed is six per cent [6 p C] per annum which is liquidated every six months.

3d. The depositor can at any time retire the whole or part of the money deposited.

4th. Once the amount deposited exceeds Twenty five thousand dollars currency, or one thousand dollars silver the depositor if he wishes can open an account current according to the rules established by the Bank.

5th. In case the depositor loses his Pass Book it can be repl ced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.

The want has long been felt of an establishment wherein the frugal and laborious citizen might deposit his savings, so as to incur no risk, and reap at the same time a good return.

This institution is calculated to answer such a purpose on reading the benefits at the establishment to even the humblest classe

Public attention is, therefore, specially called to the manner of subscriptions, and the inversion of funds, according to the rules of the association.

The PREVISORA ARGENTINA will receive subscription as follows:

1st. On one's own life, in shares of $5 silver each. These subscriptions liquidated at any time, at the subscriber's time and option.

2nd. Without loss of capital by death of the former. Subscribers will be entitled to compound interest on their subscriptions and the proportional interest for feited by the death of other shareholders in their Class, whose capital, however is returned.

3rd. With loss of capital and interest by insurer's death. All shareholders of this class shall gain compound interest on their subscriptions, besides a proportional part of the capital and interest of all who die in their Class.

All these subscriptions may be paid weekly, monthly, quarterly, half yearly, or yearly.

The capital of the Company shall be invested only in landed property (finca) and with the greatest security.

The Board of Inspection, composed of subscribers, shall have charge of all the operations of the Company
